

Ai.gnosis

CHILD DEVELOPMENT TEST

Test Report + Lifestyle Recommendations

“Turning Early Signs into Bright Futures”

Aignosis is on a mission to transform lives through early detection and intervention for neurodevelopmental disorders.

Our Developmental Screening Tool is powered by cutting-edge AI and developed in collaboration with paediatricians, child psychologists, and developmental experts.

As India's first AI-driven autism screening company, Aignosis is supported by top institutions like AIIMS, BITS Pilani and IIMA. Recognised for our innovation, we aim to make early diagnosis accessible and affordable, helping families navigate conditions like autism, ADHD, and GDD with confidence and care.

What Happens After the Aignosis Screening?

Report Summary

This is your Aignosis® Developmental Summary Report.

Our goal is to provide key insights into your child’s developmental patterns, helping you better understand their unique needs and take proactive steps to support their growth. This report offers personalized recommendations designed to guide early intervention and improve developmental outcomes. For a more comprehensive and detailed analysis, please refer to the full clinical report or consult with a certified healthcare professional.

Please Note:
This report is not a diagnostic tool and is intended for informational purposes only. It should be interpreted and used exclusively under the guidance of qualified professionals, including certified physicians, clinicians, therapists, psychologists, or other licensed healthcare providers. The insights and recommendations provided do not replace professional medical advice, diagnosis, or treatment. Aignosis is not liable for any decisions or actions taken based on this report without proper medical consultation. Always seek guidance from a certified healthcare professional before initiating any therapy or intervention.

Detailed Featured Report

A Holistic Analysis on Your Child's Development